Iron Mound.

People are very busy drying, canning and preserving fruits.

The health of this neighborhood is very good, generally speaking.

The rain and wind have done considerable damage in this country in the past few weeks.

Judge Robt. Fluty, of Winchester, is in this neighborhood looking after his many interests here.

T. E. Tipton, Iron Mound's genial merchant, is with his brother, Robt. Tipton, who is sick at Richmond.

Henderson & Stephens have their saw mill in running order and are doing a good business, and have filled several bills of lumber.

Robt. Tipton, of Jodyville, Montgomery county, but formerly of this county, and who has many friends and relatives in his native county, is very low with typhoid fever at Richmond.

Died, August 23, 1899, Virgil W. Walters, little son of J. A. and Mable Walters. Virgil was 13 months old, and a bright and promising little boy; the pride and joy of his father, mother, aunts and uncles whom he leaves to mourn his loss. All we can say is mourn not sorrowing ones, he has only gone home, and rests in the bosom of the one who has said: "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Rev James Howard preached at Corinth church last Sunday to quite a large congregation. Scripture lesson, 18th chap. of Ezk., from the 20th to the last verse, inclusive. Text: "Who-soever blaspheme shall be forgiven, except sinning against the Holy Ghost." Brother Howard made his sermon very forcible and impressive and admonished his hearers to walk uprightly in the love of God, and prepare themselves to travel safely to that country from whence no traveler returns.

A Trip Through the Mountains.

Mr. H. G. Terrell, of Louisville, who travels for the Arm and Hammer Soda Co., bravely made his way, "hammer and tongs," recently through the counties of Clay, Leslie, Hardin, Perry, Laurel and Knox, in a springless wagon, that leaped from rock to rock like the liveliest of live thunder. No city dude would venture on such a mission for less than $50 a day, considering the fact that a really handsome man is liable to be mistaken for a newspaper man, especially in Clay. Mr. Terrill became something of a hero by carrying all the way a huge megaphone, which excited the wonder and admiration of the mountaineers. As one of them would call to his neighbor, a mile away, through Mr. Terrill's megaphone, the neighborhood imagined that an optopus, or a microspondylus, or a corporation, or Senator Goebel had broken loose with a mouth big enough to swallow all the railroad, iron and cross-ties in Kentucky. He was offered $500 for his "thunder jug," as the natives called it.—Louisville Post.

Preserving Eggs.

The Ontario Agricultural College last year tested water glass, or sodium silicate, as a preservative for eggs. This is a liquid of about the consistency of sugar syrup, and they tried it of three different strengths, using one part of the water glass to 10, 15 and 20 parts of water. The 10 per cent. solution was too strong, as eggs would float on it, but the others allowed the eggs to be entirely immersed, and they kept perfectly well, being put into the pickle in May and proving perfectly fresh in December, the yolks standing up exactly as it would in newly laid eggs. They advise one quart of it in ten quarts of water, boiling the water to destroy any germs that may be in it, and adding the water glass after the water has cooled, stirring it in well to mix thoroughly. Have eggs perfectly fresh and packed in the tub, then turn the solution over them until they are entirely covered. When eggs are taken out, if they are to be boiled, prick the shell with a needle to prevent it breaking while boiling, as the preparation entirely closes all the pores of the shell.—Ex.

Short, Readable Items of Interest to All.

Frankfort will have a street fair some time early in October.

The Republicans opened their State campaign at London Tuesday of last week.

Fire at Salt Lick, Bath county destroyed two buildings, the Masonic hall and a drug store.

John W. Keller, formerly of Paris, is a candidate for Sheriff of New York county, N. Y.

Small-pox is on the increase in Casey county and in the edge of Lincoln county schools are being closed.

Mt. Sterling was visited by another disastrous fire last Wednesday night doing damage to the amount of $40,000.

Fire nearly completely destroyed the plant of the Lexington Gazette last week. The Gazette is probably the oldest paper in the State.

A Washington dispatch of the 19th says: "Capt. Henry T. Allen, Second cavalry, of this state has been appointed a Major, in the volunteer army."

The coal miners strike in the Middlesboro district has been settled and the miners have gone back to work. They accepted the 10 per cent. advance in wages offered by the companies operating the mines.

Near Middlesboro W. T. Catton and Miss Minnie Hill were married by Squire Evans. The groom is twenty-five and the bride only fifteen. The ceremony was performed in the middle of the county road, where the couple met the Squire.

Dr. F. H. Kerfoot, a leading Baptist minister of the State, has brought suit against the Shelbyville Sentinel for $75,000 damages for publishing a libelous article. The article was written because Dr. Kerfoot denounced the methods used by Senator Goebel to secure the nomination for Governor.

The prize twin story comes from Caney, Morgan county. Two merchants, known under the firm name of Caudle Bros., are so much alike they can hardly be distinguished apart. They married twin sisters. Now each has twin children who resemble each other so much that the families have great difficulty keeping their babies from getting mixed.—Sharpsburg World.

A Pitched Battle at McKee.

A pitched battle took place on the streets of McKee, Jackson county Saturday evening between James Hays and three sons on one side, and Senator William Clark and Sherman Leadford on the other. Clark received three pistol balls, one in the breast, neck and foot. Young Hays was shot in the breast with a shot gun and will die. Bitter feeling has existed between the families for quite awhile. The families are the wealthiest and most prominent in Jackson county. Clark is Senator from the 17th district. All concerned are reputed fighters and excitement is high with more trouble hourly expected.

Light Winter Predicted.

Thus far all early signs in the upper part of the State point to an open winter, says an exchange. The husks on the corn are thinner than usual, and this is taken as a sure indication of warm weather until late in the fall. Birds that go South with the first approach of cold weather, have begun repairing their nests built this spring, showing they will stay in this region until late this fall. The fur of the chipmunk and squirrel, which is heavy just previous to a hard winter, is found to be thin. Many farmers place great reliance upon these signs, which have been handed down from father to son. They will not harvest their corn until later than usual this year, and many will procrastinate cutting their winter wood.

A College in Clay County.

A first-class college in Clay county will shortly be established. It already has an endowment of $3,000. It will be located at Burning Springs. The young principal of the college, its founder, Rev. J. A. Burns, delivered an address before the Southern Baptist Convention at Louisville last May which was pronounced "the most wonderful delivery made during the session." He is an enthusiast in the cause he has espoused. Last term he had 155 pupils in attendance at Burning Springs. Let capital and philanthropy build schools and railroads in Clay county and the seeds thus sown will break in blessings on the benefactors.

Biggle Berry Book is an excellent little manual worthy of a place in every farmer's library. The book is condensed and practical, as valuable for the villager with his 10 x 12 berry patch as it is for the commercial berry grower with his twenty-acre field. The price is 50 cents, free by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

Governor Bradley is still sulking in his tents in Kentucky, and all the pressure brought to bear could not induce him to take part in the opening of the Republican state campaign at London, last week.

Kansas and Pennsylvania have been specially selected as the best field for recruits for the new regiments now being formed. An effort has been made to secure recruits from the Southern States, but there is a studied indifference in the South, and much difficulty has been experienced in obtaining volunteers from that section.

The National League of Fourth-class postmasters will attempt to induce Congress to distribute a little of the surplus wealth of the nation among them. They want a minimum salary of $100 a year, an appropriation for clerk hire, and pay for heat, light and rent which they furnish the government. Their leader was recently dismissed for soliciting subscriptions for these purposes. There are about 70,000 of them in the country.

Editor John R. McLean of the Cincinnati Enquirer, has left his Washington home for Ohio and expects to get the Democratic nomination for Governor on the first ballot. He is not a public speaker and will not go on the stump—but money talks.

The 10th district will furnish a dearth of candidates for the Democratic nomination for Congress next year. Those whom we have already heard spoken of for the nomination are: J. B. White, of Estill, O. H. Pollard, A. H. Hargis and J. Wise Hagins, of Breathitt, Judge Taylor, of Menifee, A. H. Stamper, of Wolfe, and Frank Hopkins, of Floyd. —Campton Bugle.

Winchester Court.

About 400 cattle on the market, nearly all of them light heifers which sold at 3½ to 4 cents per pound. Five cents was offered and refused for a few good steers. Some plain oxen brought 3½ to 4 cents.

Quite a demand for mule colts, and about 50 were sold at prices ranging from $18 to $40. J. D. Duvall bought one extra mule colt at $50.

O. E. Bush bought 24 heifers, 675 lbs., at 3½ cents.

Hodgkin Bros., sold to O. E. Bush 100 breeding ewes at $4 each.

J. T. and J. O. Evans bought 13 steers, weight 800 lbs., at 4 cents.

T. B. Adams sold several yoke of plain, thin oxen, weight 2,000 lbs., per yoke, at 4 cents. —Winchester Democrat.

One on Kentucky.

The Pickneyville, (Ill.) Democrat delivers itself as follows about Kentuckians:

Man born in the wilds of Kentucky is of feud days and easy virtue. He fisheth, fiddlith, fusseth and fighteth all days of his life.

He shunneth water as a mud dog and drinketh much whisky.

When he desireth to raise hell he planteth a neighbor and lo, he reapeth twenty-fold.

He riseth even from his cradle to seek the scalp of his grandsire's enemy and bringeth home in his carcass the ammunition of his neighbor's wife's cousin's uncle's father-in-law who avengeth the deed.

Yea, verily, his life is uncertain and he knoweth not the hour when he may be jerked hence.

He goeth forth on a journey "half-shot" and cometh back on a shutter, shot.

He riseth in the night to let the cat out and it taketh nine doctors three days to pick buck-shot from his person.

He goeth forth in joy and gladness and cometh back in scraps and fragments.

He calleth his fellow man a liar and getteth himself filled with scrap iron, even to the fourth generation.

A cyclone bloweth him into the bosom of his neighbor's wife and his neighbor's wife's husband bloweth him into the bosom of Father Abraham, before he hath time to explain.

He emptieth a demijohn into himself and a shotgun into his enemy and his enemy's son lieth in wait on election day and lo, the Coroner ploweth up a forty acre field to bury the remains of that man.

Woe, woe is Kentucky, for her eyes are red with bad whisky and her soil is stained with the blood of jamijits! Selah.

New Confidence Game.

A new confidence game is being worked on country people by three swindlers. A stranger comes to farm house and asks for lodging, and along about midnight a man and woman come to same house hunting a preacher to marry them. The first stranger happens to be a minister, of course, and performs the ceremony, and the farmer and his wife are asked to sign the certificate, which afterwards turns up as a promissory note for a comfortable sum. The swindle is an ingenious scheme, and farmers would do well to keep it in mind. —Winchester Democrat.

A certain Nauvoo woman assured her husband that she never told him a lie and never would. He told her that he did not doubt it, but would hereafter cut a notch in the piano when he knew she deceived him. "No you won't," she screamed. "I'm not going to have my piano ruined."

Make Your Town Known.

None of the goods manufactured in your town may ever leave it. It may not be the home of a great man; neither is there a health-giving spring within its borders. No railroad disaster has ever happened in your city. Cyclones have missed it, clouds have not flooded
it. On account of all this good fortune little or nothing is known in the great world of the place which you call home.

But the newspaper leaves it.
Copies go to great clipping bureaus, advertising agencies and to the tables of the great metropolitan journals.

The journal which bears the name of your town should be a credit to it. The advertisements should reflect favorably upon the business men. The reading matter should give an idea as to the capacity and standing of the people.

Books enlighten us as to the condition of people of the past, newspapers as to the condition
of people of the present.

About one month ago my child,
which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief, we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child has been sick for about ten days
and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live.
Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and

mended, and I decided to try it.
I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy.
